Keep Appendix 4 with you

Setting the scene :

You are Léo and Léa, great rival adventurers! You have travelled all over the world and discovered a lot of treasures! You are currently in the deep jungle, you have just found after months of searching, the treasure of Softi-kido unfortunately it is sealed but the instructions to open it are noted on the parchments that you possess! Face to face in front of the treasure, the rivalry wins out Léo and Léa are fighting! At nightfall, Léo and Léa went to the opposing camps to hide the scrolls of their rival! In the early morning, you come across several children and ask them for help in finding the pieces of parchment. Léo and Léa, still arguing, decide to have a competition! They choose their teammates, the red team for Léa and the blue team for Léo, the first ones to gather all the pieces of parchments and to decipher the codes will get the treasure!

(in brackets = do not say: stage directions)

In red lea in blue leo

Oh, my! You're just in time, all of you!

Yes, come this way!

(wait for the children to arrive)

I'm Léa!

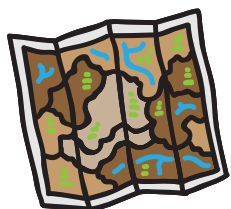

And I'm Léo!

The greatest adventurer this earth has ever known!

Aha that's a good one! I am the greatest adventurer!

You must be joking, do I have to remind you how much treasure I have won?

Yes, well, that's not the point, but you should know, dear children, that this person here went to my tent last night to steal my parchment which opened this treasure, and hid it from me!

You did the same, I'm telling you!

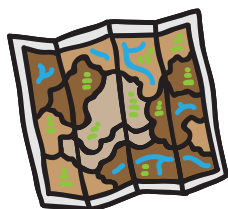

Well, once again, that's not the point, and you know what, we're finally going to find out which of us is the best! I propose a challenge!

Tell me everything my dear Leo

You see these kids, we're going to make two teams, the first team to find all the pieces of parchment and open the treasure wins!

A competition? I like it, but don't come crying to me if I win again!

(make two equal teams if possible and then split into two different locations)

SCRIPT LÉA

So you see, children, Leo left a letter before he left, I'll read it to you!

(read annex 3)

Are you ready, children? Then go and get these 6 pieces of parchment, but only take the ones marked in red! Come back when you have all 6, let's go!

(let the children search in the house, help them if necessary)

Aha well done, you have the 6 ! you just have to decipher the codes !
find the order of the pieces of parchment and decipher them !

Expected answers :

1 = 8 / 9 / 1 / 2

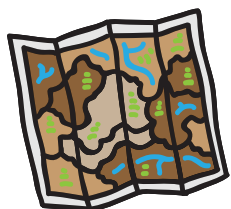

2 = Snake / Carrot / Rose / Orange / Lion / Lady bug : SCROLL

3 = green, orange, violet, grey

4 = 2 / 24 / 55 / 77 / 81 / 99 / 120

5 = Bee / Ear = Bear

6 = The sun

Appendix 1: Leo's letter to Lea

---

My dear Lea,

I couldn't bear to have you take this treasure for me, so I broke into your camp last night and stole your parchment which contained the codes that opened the chest.

I tore it into six pieces and took it back to that jungle!

You'll never find them.

Good luck to you,

Leo, the best adventurer ever!

Appendix 2: Letter from Léa to Léo

My dear Leo,

I couldn't bear to have you take this treasure from me, so I broke into your camp last night and stole your parchment which contained the codes that opened the chest.

I tore it into six pieces and took it back to that jungle!

You'll never find them.

Yours truly,

Lea the best adventurer!
